Headline:
Clear spells tonight and remaining dry and bright tomorrow.

This Evening and Tonight:
Staying dry overnight, with clear spells developing perhaps allowing a touch of frost and local fog patches in prone spots. Winds will remain light for all. Minimum temperature 0 deg C (32 deg F).

Tuesday:
Chilly to start, with local fog lifting and warm sunny spells developing. Sunshine is more likely in the south overall, with the north generally becoming cloudier and breezier. Maximum temperature 14 deg C (57 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Probably rather cloudy with some rain midweek, perhaps repeating Thursday ahead of a more generally unsettled and windier Friday with rain followed by late blustery showers. Turning cooler later.
